Today, there is a growing public concern for reducing damage to our environment and dependence on fossil fuels. GreenFiber responds to this concern by offering insulation products endowed with multiple environmental benefits produced in a virtually waste-free manufacturing process. GreenFiber manufactures GreenFiber Cocoon Insulation for use in attics, floors, and walls of residential new construction and re-insulation applications. GreenFiber provides outstanding thermal performance, fire-resistance and sound control. GreenFiber's Insulation products provide a better barrier against air infiltration, filling gaps and voids. Consisting of 85% recycled content, GreenFiber Cocoon Insulation is specially treated for flame resistance.
